SULZER PUMPS

Mountain View Middle School in Newberg Oregon has added an Enrichment Program to offer students a variety of electives to their school day. One of these elective classes is a woodshop class taught by Mr. Mike Rogers. One of the challenges that the class faced, was the lack of funds to maintain sufficient materials needed for the 24 eager students that are learning a great new skill of woodworking. Word soon reached DzL Packaging, the vendor that crates all of Sulzer's pumps in preparation for shipment, and they began delivering kiln dried "scraps" left over from their packaging company. In discussing the success of the program in regard to this new resource, Mr. Rogers stated "these scraps have been a blessing to our program! So far the students have learned to cut, assemble and finish projects such as a toolbox, a two step stool, wall shelves with coat hooks and other small items." The class has been so successful, Mountain View is planning a few more sections of woodworking with the help of the great new partnership with DzL Packaging and Sulzer Pumps.
